

laughingman tries to count to 90.....

Posted by laughingman - 14 Mar 2013 16:01

as of today all my posts are here as far as my own topics are concerned

i have had 2 falls but i am now a week into a new streak

i have had success in breaking some previously unbreakable habits not m habits ...thoses i have dealt with somewhat but even farther

as a result of the rules that i follow through the 90 days and though i have slips about once in 2-3 days every day foward breaks that tooo down so that it becomes less frequentand eventually non-existent

i recently got the s3 and i have had soo far Thank G-d no desire to sttempt to use it for searching ****

i personnaly dont use software barriers for myself (for my kids i do of course)

i can break them too easy ...the only way out is personal honesty

as all of these things are for now personal actions and it is working ...hopefully it will continue though im sure the real war is coming

Thank you cordnoyyou have been here since i started this thread

..i have come to accept (at least for now)everything that is happening as ?? ?? ??????i am not like many peoplemy problems are not typicali live a very certain type of life.....and sometimes one does things that seem simple enough but they cannot be undoneme and my wife will be fineif i can accept things and keep goingbut they are differenti wonder if anyone here has had a similar experiencei know i am being vague muchbut i am afraid still to say what some of my problems are exactlybut marital problemsand i dont still have the support i would like its funnyeveryone has certain concequences per everything they dobut many times one persons consequence for a negative action or word is not the same for another person.....

Loving your spouse must be completely selfless at timeswhere the only reward is the continued good health of your spouseand your family....HASHEM IS GREAT AND I LOVE HIM

Yes I have....and I still don't know what's goin' on.

Your attitude seems upbeat so keep that up.

I havent been trying as hardpart of me feels hopeless....part of me keeps tryingand part of me is just tired ...ALL THE TIMEi still am on the same project i was working on since june

.....i dont work fast or evenlyi just do what i can

I was given for very little energy in a given day

I can relate to low energy problems. I notice that when I eat healthy and cut down on sugar and carbs that my energy levels go way up. Obviously getting regular consistent sleep is important.

Those times when the yetzer comes back as a learned one and reminds you of all the stupid mean things you did in your marriage that caused your current situationi did cause my situationi didnt listen to advise i got here evennow my battle for real clarity and sobriety are even harderor easier depending how one sees iti always remember ...i could have had it all reallyand i shoved it away with anxiety and abruptness....it matters little how sorry i ami never give up .

..i alwayd hope onone day at a timebut i must face the darkness i causedand look into.itbecause it affected my wife who.i love and it cannot be forgivenoh welll back to the life

A real warningif nothing else i want all those still gambling with these issues who havent felt the need to changestop now!!

The consequences are dire!and realdont think what you do in the bathroom wont affect you...wont come back to get youthe y'h WILL take your life and turn it into a chemical addiction ...even you are not a real addict ...and the evil unleashed WILL eventually break what is most dear to youbut G-DS MERCY is infinite and his patience real ..but if you keep going you will eventually wake up and see a sea of destruction behind youif i ever merit true redemption from my own foolish behavior it may be because i will scare all those still breathing from drowning

I thinkif anyone can take one lesson only from here ...of all the lessons, anecdotes, etc.

THE most important one ..

ONE DAY AT A TIME

It is essential ...and it is taught repeatedly throughout the torah

"As I taught you TODAY" "if you will heed TODAY" ...

Shema is daily ...and taking things in ones trains a person in the one-ness of Hashem

Hey, I know I havent been here long and I don't know exactly what it is you're going through but I do want to encourage you. It is always frustrating, constantly feeling like you're in the wrong even when you're trying so hard to be the good person you wish you could be. I definitely understand wanting to just give up but knowing you can't ever stop trying. And looking at all the pain caused....

Just remember, Elohai Elohai neshama shenatata bi t'horah hi. You are a good and pure person. This world has taught you some bad habits but you are innately good and pure as evidenced by your desire to be a good person. The yetzer hara feeds off of your depression by turning your outlook on life so negative. When you see the wonderful soul Hashem has intended you to be (and who, indeed, you are) it makes it much easier to face these challenges. Focus on the good in you and it will prevail. You don't have to see it to know it's there.

As for the situation with your wife, I can't speak much but there was another forumer here that said something quite useful that I will paraphrase. You can't make up for the bad or change it. But you can replace the bad memories with good ones. And in time, the past won't look so hopeless in light of a brighter present.

May peace be upon you,

Michael
