

laughingman tries to count to 90.....

as of today all my posts are here as far as my own topics are concerned

i have had 2 falls but i am now a week into a new streak

i have had success in breaking some previously unbreakable habits not m***** habits ...thoses i have dealt with somewhat but even farther as a result of the rules that i follow through the 90 days and though i have slips about once in 2-3 days every day foward breaks that tooo down so that it becomes less frequent ....and eventually non-existent i recently got the s3 and i have had soo far Thank G-d no desire to sttempt to use it for searching ****

i personnaly dont use software barriers for myself (for my kids i do of course) i can break them too easy ...the only way out is personal honesty as all of these things are for now personal actions and it is working ...hopefully it will continue though im sure the real war is coming

I have been soo busy ....my plate of things to do piles up all the time ....i have become a caretaker of approx. 8 ppl not all of whom are children...i am not recognized as such officially ...as far as the surrounding kehillah is concerned we are a normal family that just had a tragedy ...but sometimes the bubbles of our difficulties surfaces ....i try to do my best to keep things going as much as normal as possible ...i see more the fantasticness of each day that i get something done ...that i am able to help even if its not perfect and never will be...

I feel in between .....on the one hand my family life has improved dramatically .....on the other hand i still wallow in the filth .....every now and then (about 2 weeks to a month.....i have observed ....and i am sure some who have followed my journey have observed it too) now i am starting to feel like i have no control ....but i dont talk to anyone here lately about it ....mostly i feel like i am simply another burden to others who already carry soo much in life

I feel guilty for what i have done .....guilty and sad ....but that is not stopping me enough.....but what is enough?

Don't get down. Your life sounds incredibly difficult and you're coping so well. I usually gasp in awe at how such people can handle such tragedy. I have everything going for me and am probably doing worse than you. So pat yourself on the back. You deserve it and are an inspiration for us.

I have a problem. Whenever i feel down, and i feel down from the simplest thing; i immediately turn to porn. Or its equivalent. i dont talk to anyone really about how i feel or why i feel that way. I just act on it. I was supposed to talm to Dov about 3 months ago and i never got back to him. First it was i was trying to think what to do to go foward, then it was rosh hashana, and now its chag.

It's called an addiction. You aren't bad for that, it's not in your control unless you get into recovery.

Just try when you are available.

If you let me know beforehand it will be better, but try anyway.

About a week ago ....i was feeling out of control. I kept acting out, seemingly on some kind of self-destructive warpath. I felt like all i could do was keep doing what i was doing. Then i suddenly realized the destructiveness, the very real destructiveness of my course of actions. Losing time, losing my temper, losing my soul. All very real things, too much. For the longest time i have felt a very real divide on how Hashem really feels about me. On the one hand i try to internalize the things that i have learned, in school, from my mentors when i had any, and from people on this forum like dov. From the other side though i kept feeling like maybe all of these people are mistaken? Maybe we all just disappoint with our actions and are awaiting massive retribution? I have spent my life really thinking at least in hindsight most of the time, on what the results of my negative and destructive behaviors and actions had on my experiances that await me after death. But none of that stopped my negative behavior, largely because i kept feeling hopeless from my misunderstanding of my own knowledge. But then again i kept trying to do positive and healing actions too. Which might explain the epiphanies i started having. True i and many many others might have much to deal with both here and after, but if that were the be-all-end-all then we would perish long ago. But we are still here, and its not like we are like others who are completely unrepentant. On the contrary most of us are humbled and humiliated on our own and would never do any of the things we have done if we truly understood ...and we regret these things always. So maybe there is more to it, maybe Hashem is soo much more benevolent than any truly understand. When one starts to contemplate on the things that might really matter to the One who controls all, one might see Him everywhere at once. Like moshe, sometimes it just means to stop and see why the bush is NOT being burned.
