

Accountability partner

Posted by toraschaim - 02 Aug 2013 03:26

I need an accountability partner for my 90-days chart. Some questions:

Should I try to find someone with a similar background (married, kids, young, non-yeshivish, thinks he's not an addict), or does it not make a difference?

Also, is there anyone on the forum who would be willing to be my accountability partner? I would be happy to reciprocate.

Did you register with the partner program here?

guardyoureyes.com/tools/partner-program

It seems like they do try to match up people with some similarities.
