Answer; no no no. No what am i supposed to say?? Ummmmmmmm. So ill say this. Ive noticed in the past then when i count it puts too much pressure on me. Personal thing, but fact. So i decided im going with a different approach. Im just gonna try and live my life to the fullest. Fill my day with all types of good things and whatever. keep my mind off all the "other stuff". So therefore, no, i have not reached 90 days. But i hope i will. But im not counting my way there, like i explained before. So thats why im not on the wall. I also dont keep much of a journey because i dont have much to say. Im just living life. Taking the bumps as they come. Gliding that and you never mentioning what you do to live...

Hey habib dont ever think youve got this loser upset. I left that word in the toilet a couple years ago. besides when i think people try to take advantage of my wife. Which btw just happened today. Then i go to the john and get the "upset" word back. But besides very few instances i keep him far away.
