Posted by Bigmoish - 29 Jul 2014 23:01

I just posted my story in the "introduce yourself" forum. It feels like a weight off my shoulders already, but I hope I can really do this.

I already woke up this morning with the YH in my head, but I managed to brush it off and go

Like cordnoy said we all really feel with you and I hope your adjusting to the concept of you wife knowing.

You do seem to be dealing with it pretty well so KOMT!!!!

We're all with you so KUTGW!!!!

Unanumun I was really laughing hard when I saw the post about chutz l'aretz being metamtem (actually tried to keep it low so my wife doesn't hear me laughing while i'm on the computer she doesn't know yet because I cant decide if I should send a women or tell her myself).

I tried both, and am still the same dumna@# in both countries!

And.....send a woman in.

At least when Hell breaks loose, there will be two women in the bedroom.

I had a stressful day at home yesterday (whether the stress was real or perceived, yesh ladun), and I really wanted to act out. Maybe it's just been a while since I fed the beast, I don't know. Thanks to all those who respond to my desperate pleas for help at midnight or later and calmly walk me back from the edge. (Even if it may not be midnight where y'all are.)

I am far from out of the woods, though, and bracing for another day of "battle."

I know like this.

My lustful slips/falls have lasted a week or two, and I was in it constantly (seemingly different than others).

If, however, your thought process is: "I was lustful yesterday, but never satisfied myself, so tonight's gonna be a whopper of a struggle," may I suggest the simple thought process of: Not every lustful thought needs a conclusion; they can remain just as they are/were....a lustful thought.

I try to pay attention to details (especially yours), but I missed the reference to 'gloves.'

A couple of weeks ago, I had been thinking about the concept of transferring our lust of women to "lust" for Hashem, so to speak. I think it was the subject of a chizuk email and perhaps was subsequently debated on the forum. I was a little bothered about whether or not it was actually possible at the time.

Then on Thursday night, I was at a shiur, and I had a hard time staying awake. I thought to myself that if there was a certain woman standing in front of me, I probably would not be sleeping. I'm not exactly sure how to describe it, but I attempted to equate knowing the information being given over at that shiur with getting close to the object of my lust. It did help me stay awake, and I came to a certain understanding in the aforementioned concept. It cannot help me "redirect" my lust away from women. However, perhaps I can use it to help me focus on my learning at times that I don't feel in the mood.
