24 hours clean (I need to make sure my 90 day challenge is corrected)

Thanks for the messages.

Today went well...very busy lots of study,learning,spending time with friends and family...only working on me....I just need to package myself to bed now.

One day at a time..."I don't expect you not to have the Tayva, I expect you not to have the time"

Shavuah tov everybody!

It's really lovely to get this amount of support on this thread. The communal support brings immense strength so thanks to all of you who comment. When I've progressed a little further in my journey and chizzuk from me stops being irrelevant, I will endeavour to take a leaf out of your books and do the same.

"Al Tisyaesh" thank you for your point. Very true. It brings extra koach.

It's nice to still be going strong, to not be hampered by guilt, and to live a life with positive connection to Hashem.

Pointer: why to we say "attah chonantanu" on motzei shabbat in the beracha for wisdom? The classic answer is because only through wisdom can we attain the clarity of separation. Although I'd suggest, more relevant to this forum, that equally true is that only through separation (keddusha and non-keddusha, purity and impurity) can we truly attain wisdom. Our minds slowly become unclouded.
