Sure, I'll tell you. It's just that my case is so similar to many if not most of 'us' here...

When I first succumbed to masturbation with the aid of pornographic materials at teenage age, I didn't really think about it as anything wrong. In the subsequent years I gradually realized the badness and the need to manage it - more precisely to stop. Quite often, I had succeeded in being clean for months, even most of the year, but then - at times under high stress - I did it again...

Thus now, I'm here for the ongoing victory over porn addiction.
