Thanks for the words of chizuk. It's hard to believe that Hashem is rejoicing over me, so thanks for the reminder. I'm not sure that does anything in the way of keeping me sober though. Is that knowledge something that has kept you sober?

Unfortunately ,in and of itself it does not do keep us sober.

However, knowing that Hashem is proud and rejoicing should motivate us to continue following those attitudes that are indeed fundamental for Sobriety.

I understand. maybe if we put the time in for our relationship with Hashem that some do with hisbodidus or other ways, and then feel the relationship with Hashem more acutely, we would truly sense our relationship in a stronger way, then perhaps we too would be so motivated.
