

just had a fall

Posted by eny - 18 Aug 2015 02:24

I didn't believe this would ever happen again (I know the SA people are going to react with the one day at a time & you have to believe that you are not able to overcome it ...) but I didn't believe this was my situation - I didn't think this would happen.

I know exactly what happened - we moved to a new filter (VCF), but did not yet fine tune it & I tested how powerful it was and fell. This was crazy.

Welcome

Sorry to hear.

Why did you believe that it would never happen again?

What secret potion were you usin' that you thought was fool-proof?

And by the way, how long were you sober for?

Thanks

First it went straight to my ego and inflated head - then i realized he probably meant Moish.

Moish is also 100% right, but I meant you. I have to think a lot longer about his response. As foolish as it sounds, I really did think it would not happen again & I have to think why.

sorry for mixing up your names.

I'm clearly a novice forum participant.

no secret potion. naivete: I had a naive belief that a combination of a strong will and mentally distancing that kind of behavior would keep me away from it.

I was on day 58.

Thanks for realizing how important it was for me to hear from one of the people on the forum right away. I really appreciate that

If it helps at all,

I am on day 3 and have no clue how you made it to day 58. In my eyes you are a courageous warrior keep it up!!
