

Starting on the list today...

I just signed up to the site today and am adding myself to the 90 day chart. I only have 4 days, which is hard for me to take in as I have never felt so close before Yom Kipur. I have made a list of changes in my life that I will review on a daily basis as well as signed up to receive a sponsor so I pray with these things G-d will help me make it to 90 and beyond...

Welcome and lots of luck. Go for the 90 days and go for 180 days. But just remember if you don't make it not all is lost. 4 days is a chashuv too. One day at a time!

Just some silly advice from a novice

WELCOME!

It's impossible to get to 90 days without getting 4 days and it's impossible to get to 4 days without getting to 1 day. Be proud that you are sober today! We have no control over tomorrow or yesterday do we? So how about focusing on today, one day at a time. Have a gmar chasima tova.

Hatzlacha raba.
