

Doing the 90-Days (again), but this time...

Posted by m58yiw84niym - 01 Oct 2015 05:06

I'M GOING TO MAKE IT!!!! YARRRGH!!!!!!

. It was a tough week,
I fell 3 times recently (the last one was particularly discouraging given the circumstances), and this coming after a particularly good streak through Yom Kippur.

But as they say, that's in the past. I wish it wasn't (boy, how I wish it wasn't), but it's there, and nothing I can do can change that. However, I'm pushing forward and starting anew, going strong with the program with a renewed and enthusiastic determination. In the decade or so that I've been fighting this, this is the most determined I've ever been, so it's now or... (don't want to say never, so I'll just leave it at "it's now").

Sorry about that, really needed to vent my frustration about this struggle

So here's the plan: (Side note: Just wrote that line, and stared blankly at the screen for several minutes trying to figure out if I actually had a plan. Still not sure if I do, but here goes) Starting today, I'm reading through the GYE Handbook. Hope to be done with it by the end of Isru Chag, and implementing the necessary tools from it. I'll also be posting in this thread almost daily), and keeping everyone updated. Also looking into getting a partner/sponsor.

So here goes: Starting off on Day 1.

P.S. Does anyone else agree with me that we need more varieties of "Topic Icon" smilies? I'm or . Ok, now that that's out of the way, time to hit submit!

I would like to add to what cordy said: My experience was that the way I "turned off" the urge was by doing one thing. Letting go and letting god. B"h I haven't fought an urge in a long time. I just take a step back and let God do his work. If I fight then I will act out. Not necessarily because of losing, fighting itself just creates such an unrest inside me that I need to act out. My sobriety had been so pleasant and for me there is really no other way. I'd rather act out and not fight than be sober and fighting.

I can give you ideas to refresh your mind

Maybe think about Cholent, where one ingredient has been liberally dispensed tonight

... or perhaps what your screen name means ...

i have, on several occasions, played with the idea of collecting guesses on the forum and seeing if someone would get it at least partially right. i have some creative ideas. probably completely off though...

yes, mark has had so much beans tonight that for the next 8 hours, he is a bigger threat to the ozone layer than trump's private jet.

I'm sticking with what I've said in the past: my username stands for "Randomly Hit the Keyboard With My Fist", I'm just really bad at acronyms...

My apologies, you do get credit as well. Mainly because your peirush on Gevurah Shebyesod's reason helped solidify the screen name.
