

Could've been the 90th day

Posted by Joerandom - 28 Jan 2016 00:09

---

I started GYE exactly 90 days ago. At the time I was MB almost every day. I thought that I'd really make it to 90 days (haha good one...). I had my ups and downs. Had some good streaks and bad streaks but overall would obviously want to be able to get to 90 right now. I'm currently riding a 5 day streak and obviously hoping this time I'll get there.

I want to add that I have no internet capabilities on my phone at the moment, only email, whatsapp, some kosher apps (siddur Chumash, etc...) and the chizuk app where I access GYE. I have a computer with me as well but no internet capabilities where I am and when I have wifi I have web chaver.

That being said I somehow ALWAYS find a way to mess up and when I do it's generally downhill from there. My biggest struggle is that I'll find someone else's device completely unfiltered and "take advantage" of that opportunity or use my "mental library" of pornographic images. Any one have any tips for me or some chizuk, I could really use some in the thick of choref zman

No they come out

Ungezetzed! :-(

Need a proof of depression?????

Check the yeshiva coffee rooms - they put Starbucks to shame

How many cigarette butts???

Is yeshiva a fun place for many many boys?

Yes or no?

So they lust - of course! Cell phone - or not

And the fault of the yeshiva administration for causing all this depression staying to ?? ?? - I'm being blunt as usual, but it keeps me from depression so I do it ;-)

Please.

Let's not turn this into the blogs.

Is yeshiva perfect? Probably not.

But BH, they are doing phenomenal.

It's very scary where Yeshiva's are up to today.

And very scary where kollel guys are up to today and where baalei batim are up to today and where everyone is up to today so.....

I guess I better work a little more on My own sobriety.

eyeglasees, it is hard to tell how serious you are being - perhaps you are just joking. But with all respect if you want to vent about all your problems with society start you own website and blog abot it there. GYE is not the place for this.

I second that. We could go on and on about how the world is so bad and so terrible and mamish things are so giferlach and oyoyoyoyoy. But you know what? The world is EXACTLY how god wants it to be. Last I checked he knows more then us.

Hey guys I appreciate the "backup". But let's all agree to focus on OUR goal, which is to win this battle against lust and the yetzer harah. Who cares what yeshivas are like nowadays and who cares what they were then, all that matters is that we try our hardest. As I sit here on my phone, yes my phone, an iPhone which has been completely filtered and has Zero Internet capability other than the app which I type on now (the GYE chizuk app) I can't think of a better way to be mekadesh the gashmiyos that HaShem has tested me with.

Oh and P.S. I'm actually on ?? ?? in Bava Metziah

Perhaps Cordnoy meant that - he left out the ? like he skips G's, although he's in my opinion one of the biggest ?'s on gye
