Hi,

I'm new.

Nervous.

Motivated.

Need Help.

Welcome!

I was nervous when I began too

Motivation is key - stick it in the ignition of your 18 wheeler and KOT

If your new start with the Handbook and with time you'll learn how to handle.

I would advise to print out the book and set time for reading.

So I have been struggling with this since i was old enough to 15 years, my wife has no idea, I hate it! Bli Ein Hora I have a great marriage, just this is my crazy addiction and all these filters only last a small time.

I'm on day 2 and i'm feeling strong now but i know that the first couple of days after a down are the easiest so i'm bracing myself for the fight ahead.

Yesterday I had complete access to internet but B'H thanks to this site I didn't fall.

Long Long way to go.....

Welcome.

I'm not new. (Relatively speaking.)

Still a bit nervous.

The Oilam here motivates me.

You better believe I need help...

Stick around.

Hi Strength,

I am new...every day. I take it one day at a time.

I am no longer nervous as in scared, but vigilant and humble as in knowing that I need HKB"H protecting me 24/7/365 to stay clean. I know that he stays with me and protects me...IF I let him.

I am very motivated...my life depends on it.

I need help all the time so I reach out to HKB"H all the time and to my friends on GYE and in person in real life.

LR-LG...Life is good when life is real!!

You came to the right place. Everyone here is so caring and helpful. Just be open and share.

My friend

Besides for the 90 day chart and Peloni's popcorn, is there any other navigation tool you have tried yet?

(see the GPS in my signature)

Welcome!

Why is it about to get hard? Hasn't it always been hard?
