Hi,

I'm new.

Nervous.

Motivated.

Need Help.

not really, I don't have time to read through pages of material I don't want to be caught on this site

Well then, I won't write a long post.

B'hatzlachah to you.

It's too bad though, for there is a wealth of material here that would be beneficial for you.

I much prefer getting caught on GYE than in a strip club or viewing porn!! I actually tell my friends about GYE. I never know who could benefit and I need the zchus of helping others. I tell them about this incredible site about the dangers of the internet and some scary stories from the testimonials. GYE advertises all over so I have not found it to be revealing of anything.

Hi strength, bruchim habuim!

There is no swimming unless you jump into the pool, and there is no trucking unless you have both feet in the truck.

Either you're in or you're out, sitting on the fence won't start the engine, time to find a way to delve into this website, use markz' GPS, read the handbook, whatever it takes, lives are stake here.

I don't really understand! Everyone is saying the same thing, that its not enough, well its helped me so far and if I spend more time and my wife finds out that is for sure it.

Maybe judging other peoples situations before you know them doesn't work!

No one is judging

You said right now

"I don't understand..."

So I'm asking you the same

"I don't understand" how do you access porn sites if your wife may catch you any second

Be clever and make sure that your wife doesn't find out right now about your struggle.

Number 2. write down on paper what are your struggles, porn masturbation or..... then set a plan and find your way and time for your recovery.

Number 3. believe me that the guys here are willing to help you, NOT the o posit.

I can share with you that I was porning on my my house computer but I wouldn't dare going on GYE at home, now let me ask you was I normal?

This is what the guys were trying to tell you.

I wouldn't say hanging it on here with guys like yesod, markz and other truckers of shady reput is an entirely risk free enterprise.

Drive with care.

Where the hell are my dentures, Markz if you ever find your glasses, would you please do be so and kind to return my false teeth, i have yours here, apparently you switched them in the mikva again.
