I imagine you have alot of qualified people to talk to, but in case you run out of numbers and you need another I'm more than glad to share mine.

It's great that you're still clean.

Like a retired member used to say, falls don't happen in a vaccum. It might be a good idea for you to figure out why you almost fell, what led up to it etc.

KOMT!

It's late an I gotta go to sleep but I'm feeling the feelings so I gotta post (as opposed to doing it tomorrow) this post is both a cry for help and putting my thoughts to concrete which I've found helps today hasn't Been the best day and I've been struggling with one particular fantasy which I alternate between being sickened and aroused im scared I don't want to fall but I want to give in to stop fighting but I don't want to fall back down to the mud this is me reaching out thoughts/help/ideas?

Aryeh, from the posts at the top of this page it sounds like you have the numbers and/or email addresses of a few people here. Maybe you can use them tonight. I'm sure they won't mind if you are trying to avoid a fall.

I'm praying for you.

First of all thanks but cords helped me out already

I e-mailed you as of right now phoning wouldn't work but I wrote down your number to take to yeshivah in case I need back up (can't email there)

Hey Chevra

so suprisingly enough I don't actually know everything on Tuesday night one of the people I reached out to was cordnoy and he told me to pray I was incensed he was supposed to be one the guys with the answers doesn't he know that I've been davening for 5 years what's it going to help so anyways I did pray and wadya know it worked I survived so thanks for that I have a fantasy that's been tugging at me for days and my neighbors using my trampoline pretty much everyday definitely does not help the situation

ideas/thoughts

Are you reaching out for how to be rescued, or are you seeking a life mindset changer?
