I feel like a creep I fell again

I left my house to go play tennis with some friends hoping to get lust out of my system and some exercise

unfortunately when I came back my neighbors were still there and after a few minutes of internal struggling I started staring out my window after that it was just downhill

Hello all feeling very out of touch with reality and in touch with my fantasies so posting to hopefully bring me back to earth on Monday I was feeling extremely tired and lonely and the day probably would have edbed badly had I not joined my first call the 9:30 call turned out to be a real lifesaver and got me thinking when on Tuesday the next day I had a major pull to masturbate I realized I was doing it just to escape pain disappointment and loneliness I didn't end up acting out then

however I had a fall on Wednesday

Sounds like a real rollercoaster.

Falling can make one feel weird.

I fell erev rosh hashana last year. I felt like I was on drugs.

KOMT!

Feeling intense Shnitzlefaceness

Hey all had a fall just now I really need to work on something new dov gave me his phone number and I plan on phoning him

i think my main problem now is still I don't view porn or masturbation as poison

I did compile a list of why I dont want to fall but can't really think of why I should stay clean as I haven't experienced sobriety of more than 10 days in aproxemitly 5 years

Would you like to share your list? Either on the forum, or pm/email/phone? (We never spoke, but maybe you have my number?)

Maybe another way to think about reasons to stay clean is to imagine what your life might be like if you stayed clean for X amount of days - How would your life be better by next summer if you manage to stay clean (or mostly clean) between now and then?

As far as feeling schnitzelfaceness.... I must say I'm not familiar with the phenomenon. Sorry

Thanks I did try and call you i think three times but it didn't go through or the line was busy

Here it is (not in order of importance just what comes to Mind) firstly I feel like I let G-D myself and everyone on GYE down everytime I do .secondly it makes me feel dirty and disgusting. Also it reminds me everytime I do that I can't control my life and that an addiction does which leads to the next point which is that I usually walk around depressed for a day or two and o find it hard to daven and learn and feel I'm really connecting . Finally it makes disgusting perverted thoughts pop up more and more in my head thoughts? Anything to add?

It's not your fault you've never experienced shnitzlefaceness only a select few are privileged the main criteria it to be off your rocker

I would never add to your list.. Thanks for sharing

And now that you explain it.. I think I've been through something similar to schnitzelfaceness before - Just never knew what it was ;-)

I'm doing good I actually just got home from yeshivah and haven't really had a time to do anything the main reason I don't post more is because Ina. Normal week expect for Friday until Sunday I'm at yeshivah with no internet access so it's a little hard some might say even in possible to post without internet access but thanks for asking Since I'm in the same situation I'd excuse you. It is pretty hard to post without internet.

Ever tried posting via telepathy?
