

Here's an idea

Hey guys,

so I noticed for myself I have this need for accountability and I don't always have the ability or drive to get online and come here. That being said, I'd like to start a wattaapp group for 3-4 ppl max. Obviously there can prob b no anonymity anymore with it, so it'll be akin to going to a live SA meeting, you might meet some people you know, you might not. It'll only be open to us 4-5 ppl on it. That's it. And of course wtvr is on the group stays there privately.

if you might be interested and want details (which we can work out together) PM or chat with me. Don't have to gimme any phone numbers yet or anything like that, just touch base and schmooz if u wanna hammer out the details.

Gluck everyone

Cords, the mini communities didn't seem to take off

I like mr clean's idea

How about asking the.guard to change it to wattsap or similar

So yeah there may be lower amt of participants, but I think it's a little more practical

What do you think?
