I wouldn't worry over something that may or may not be a problem in the future.

Get sober and you'll be fine.

I agree with Watson, I would just like to add,

that you should "use" that concern you have to clean up your act now, while you have a chance.

Many say that you will get the wife you deserve,
based on your actions and spiritual level.

You're in the right place. Use the resources here and get better/grow/break free now.

You can do it!

Welcome to gye.

Keep focused on improving your life and yourself a little bit each day.

as a solution for worrying in general,

Dale Carnegie has a great book by the title:

How to stop worrying and start living

Hey tl is there anything specific you want to work on

Watson has said it all to translate it into gye terms take it one day at a time the only thing that should be focused on is today yesterday is gone (of course to be used to GROW from whether from the successes and especially from the falls though we try not to have them) and tomorrow we will deal with then not sure if this helps (not implying anything just giving a perspective)

Noticed that there were several new posters, and all jumpin' to the 90-day endgame.

While that is certainly good, they were cautioned by others to focus on today.

Saw this written concisely on another thread: Keep in mind, that while the 90 challenge is a fantastic goal, in reality, we only have today. You don't need to abstain for the next 90 days. Right now you need to abstain just for today. When tomorrow comes it'll be the same thing, just for today (aka tomorrow... ). Keep it in the day and the 90 days will come on their own.

here is another gem from the past

cordnoy wrote on 14 Jul 2015 00:08:

From a fresh poster:

The future is not some place we are going, but one we are creating. The paths are not to be found, but made. And the activity of making them changes both the maker and their destination.

The little things? The little moments? They aren't little.

i dont think that it "may" be a problem i really think its gonna be a problem

Thinking it doesn't make it so.

Again, focus on sobriety only, the rest will take care of itself.

Goin' for the 90 days is not doin' anythin' today.

regardin'l the tapshic thingy, that's really just holdin' yourself back....not really doin' anythin' productive.
