

I AM HIGHER THAN ALL THIS!!!

Posted by higher - 01 May 2019 14:39

High!

I have been on and off/lurking/etc... this site for a while. ive been struggling with erotic audio, erotic reading material, and looking for inappropriate websites, occasional mb but no p. (one exception when there was a really bad break in the filter but i only saw muted previews bh) either way i wanna quit all this garbage! this is really not ME. this stuff is fueled by being starved for intimacy and my wife is disgusted by it. in addition, there are heavy duty shalom bayis issues. so since i feel starved, its hard for me not to act out...i am working on the last two issues and iyh things will improve. for now, i feel like i can use the chizzuk as well as accountability that a thread like this can give me. thus begins my 90 day program. awaiting the gye's welcoming committee's response...

I have a question all that have an answer are invited to come forth. (cud be this shud be in a seperate thread i wud appreciate advice on that as well).

question: what is a person that is NOT AN ADDICT and starved of sex with his wife supposed to do? he has natrual urges and if hes locked up and being starved, how can he just restrain himself? he needs to let it out somewhere no? regardless of the fact that he wont be fulfilled by engaging in all this filthy garbage, but how can he just starve his need? he has to be fed SOMEWHAT...

DISCLAIMER!!! obviously the fact that something is a davar assur and we can get hell for it etc is not the discussion here. im looking for both chizzuk as well as a practical eitzah for fulfilling a pretty basic need when one seems pretty trapped. obviously the goal is to only do ratzon hashem and not any aveiros...the question is whats a good chizzuk for someone going through such a mess, and whats a practical tip/solution for fulfillment if your starved. And with all due respect, to anyone on the site, if you have a great sex life, please dont bother answering (unless you have previous experience of your wife being disgusted by it) u probably have no clue of both the difficulty of the nisayon nor the solution. This isnt meant to come across as harsh just from enough personal experience from getting the wrong advice from very well meaning yet fortunately clueless people.

DISCLAIMER!!! obviously the fact that something is a davar assur and we can get hell for it etc is not the discussion here. im looking for both chizzuk as well as a practical eitzah for fulfilling a pretty basic need when one seems pretty trapped. obviously the goal is to only do ratzon hashem and not any aveiros...the question is whats a good chizzuk for someone going through such a mess, and whats a practical tip/solution for fulfillment your starved. and with all due respect, to anyone on the site, if you have a great sex life, please dont bother answering (unless you have previous experience of your wife being disgusted by it) u probably have no clue of both the difficulty of the nisayon nor the solution.

to quote one of the resident experts on the site:

1. The "need" is imagined, not real....
2. If you come to terms with that and are at peace with the fact that there will be urges, but those urges do not define who you are, you will iyh be able to pull through.
3. As far as learning about this subject i think a first education is to once and for all destroy the mantra/belief that one NEEDS to ejaculate. Although pleasurable it is but an urge. Unlike eating and sleeping it is not a need.
4. Distract yourself for a few minutes and you will see the urge disappear into thin air. It is a desire, not a need.
5. They do not panic when faced with an urge, rather they use the methods they learned here among the chevra. For some, it is to call a friend, another makes a Taphsic, another goes for a walk or turns on a shiur/music, another reads a previously written list of things Hashem does for him on a daily basis.

6. The first step in stopping mzl is to recognize that although it is pleasurable (for a very short time), it is not a need. A person can live a happy and fulfilled life without ejaculation or other sexual stimulation. Food, drink, and sleep are necessities, not sex.
7. When someone is hungry and distracts himself, when the distraction is over, he is starving. When one is tired and gets very busy, when done he "crashes". However when one feels the urge to masturbate and instead gets on a treadmill, goes for a walk, gets busy at work, etc, the urge does not automatically reappear when that distraction/task is over. i have woken up with strong erections "ready to go" and forced myself to get moving and bh the urge did not return. that shows us that ejaculation is not a need, rather a very pleasurable activity which some of us have gotten into the habit as using as a stress reliever, boredom escape, or rejection pacifier. (As we all know the relief is extremely short lived and simply not worth the depression/anxiety/guilt/ feelings we develop immediately after acting out.)
8. I would like to add that my own feeling of liberation has been incredible: Before abstinence, I was convinced that I had sexual needs, and I was constantly obsessed with fulfilling those needs, not being satisfied, and suffering from terrible frustration (and blaming my wife most of the time).

Now I realize: Today I don't NEED sex. I brainwashed myself into thinking I need, and hence all of the above. I see how emotionally/physically dependent I was on sex.

Begin quote: hmmm...this shud prob be in the baleh batim section-someone gimme a buzz if so...its just part of my 90 day business...like how im going to succeed...so i put it here...

- End quote.

Unless the answer is that one should convince his wife to undress for him, manipulate her into havin' sex, explainin' to her and remindin' her that her kallah teacher said that it is her responsibility to engage in sexual intimacy even when she's not feelin' it, for otherwise the poor guy's gonna take matters into his own hands (ummm...), it can stay in this sextion, and besides, there already is one of those threads in the B"B sextion; no need to overload the system.

9. hey look! theres an addition here! sorry this one is from higher i messed up (in general) on the quote thing (in specific).
10. methinks that in addition to what reb cords is sayin', i think being involved in growing in emunah and bitachon by learning chovos halevavos and thanking Hashem (that was listed, true) as well as a solid seder in gemara. just saying that from my experience, once ur healthy enuf (key words-especially for addicts) to have a solid seder in gemara, it does wonders for the rest of ur day and sipuk and helps you feel higher then the nisyonos abound.
