Happy to hear that you are at day 45!! No need to worry about 'feeling lustful', the feeling might show up or it wont, either way you proved to all of us here that you can keep strong, 45 days aint no easy task.

So keep it up and keep on posting, and when in need reach out to others for support.

You are doing great. Just take it one day at a time. There will be times when it is harder. But that is part of the journey to recovery.
