

My Clean Days Log

Posted by ??? ????? ????? ??? - 27 Jan 2020 01:01

Hello GYE Forum.

I will mark my progress in this topic called, "My Clean Days Log." Thanks for any and all support and encouragement.

I will attempt to post a meaningful text (most often religious, but maybe secular as well) to accompany my journey. Comments on the texts are appreciated as well.

Day 1:

??? ????"? ?? ????????? ?? ????????? (?????? ??? ?.)

My translation tonight: G-d does not bring down humanity with clever ploys (Avodah Zarah 3a).

Namely, the mitzvos that we must keep are doable and are not impossible tasks. As hard as they may seem sometimes, the mitzvos of kedusha are not clever ploys to trip up humanity, but rather they are achievable mitzvos. I believe in the eternity of the Torah and its applicability and relevance to every generation, most importantly this one and my life. It would then follow that I can accomplish great growth in the area of kedusha and that I can work to push back against the yetzer hara.

Thanks for reading!

Day #34.

I am struggling at the moment with a strong urge to masturbate. I have been saying "no" for about an hour now. I decided to write a quick post about it.

I pray to Hashem that the urge should not overcome me and that I should be able to report "day #35" tomorrow.

Go for a jog. that will help break the urge. At the very least, go out for a walk

Day #48.

The desire does not go away, but as the days go on it becomes less of an option.

So true! You put it very well. The desire may be there, but at the same time the yetzer harah isn't. Just like with chilul shabbos. We may have a desire to turn the light off, because we won't be able to sleep the whole shabbos, yet at the same time we don't have a yetzer harah and it's not even a battle to actually do it because being mechalel shabbos r"I is so removed from us.

I was struggling to put my finger on the exact understanding, because in so many areas I have a tremendous desire to the degree that in the past I would've almost been guaranteed to give in. But now even in the face of tremendous desire and desperation there is no chance of me giving in. Thank you for explaining it!

Excellent! said! It's just like the guy who grew up enjoying Burger King cheeseburgers, and now became frum and still longs for one when driving by the restaurant, but does not even attempt to pull into the parking lot. Chevra, let's face it. The urge will be here for life, but we will just simply say "No, we graduated and don't do that stuff any more."
