

Back on track

It's been a long time since I posted and I'm starting a new thread today to get back on track.

I had a streak of about 6 months and then fell about 2 months ago. Since then I've been struggling and haven't gone 3 days clean.

I know it all started when my taphsic "expired" and I made a new one today. If I was able to do in the past it means I have the power to do it again.

I will start each day with the daily boost as well as watch another video at night. Each day I will update my chart, post my progress and share ideas and struggles as well as try to inspire others. These tools worked for me in the past and will do so again.

I know this will be very hard at the beginning and will get easier overtime. I will put in the effort and make it happen.

Kudos for recognizing that Hashem wants you to succeed! Many people forget that point and it is crucial in empowering us to succeed.

What is your strategy to stay clean?

I made it through yesterday, and I'm still pushing hard. I know if Hashem gave me this challenge I could overcome it.

To all those people who have helped me and inspired me to be better may Hashem bless you with an amazing new year.
