Dear Friends

BH the surgery went well

the recipient took well to the kidney BH.

Now there is BH just lots of pain.

the made 3 small incisions and 1 big near the pelvis to remove the kidney.

It takes time for the some bodily functions to resume. I still need your prayers.

Guys before you have a lust please think of me. The pain is extreme. I have not gone tp the bathroom since friday morning. Please guys pray for me.

Hashem Knows who eyes is on GYE.

Have me in mind.

It makes me so sad when I look on the comments and some people are back at 1 day. It is very hard for me.

Please when things are getting hard think of EYES and how much pain he is going through to do a mitzva. Daven for me at that time and the urge will disappear.

Youngster thanks for inquiring about me. It really means tons.

I see people are reading and they care.

May we share good news.

I will IYH update

Thanks again.

You guys are such an amazing family, mamash like brothers

Dear friends,

your prayers have been answered. BH today i advanced in one of the areas in my recovery.

Something I was not able to do until today. was done today.

I will spare the details.

Thanks guys

please praying for me.

BTW before i was rolled in to the operating room, i did not feel scared.

I thought i would go in crying, but i felt this cloud of tefillos of my achainu beis yisroel interceding on my behalf.

it was a feeling i have never felt before.

thanks

with most respect and admiration to all you brothers

Spare the details?

You had a spare kidney?

Wow a tzaddik like you!!!!

Please give each of us a Bracha. We can do with yours.

And Gd should give you all you need physically, mentally, spiritually and back to your strength asap!

Our sages say kidneys advise the heart. Did you manage to get rid of the lust one?

Dear Markz you definitely have a sense of humor.

I started to laugh but it pulls at my incisions so I needed to stop.

cloyos yoatzos

I hope I did get rid of lust, but i will never know.

I would like to give you all a bracha that we should all have the courage and the strength to fight this magapha/ pandemic around us. We should have the courage to say no or stop when we know we are going in the wrong place. With that we should all be zoche to sholom Bayis, Parnassa, Children, Nachas from the children. And the best of all to be zoche to the coming of the Moshiach Speedily in our days. When Moshiach comes all sicknesses will be gone. So I guess this one will go with it. It is something that we should all yearn for. However, we shouldnt wait for that to happen, we need to deal with these struggles now, so we should be zeche to b'sefer ponim yaffos from Hashem and not be embareesed.

Thanks

Hey guys, sorry for not posting, I wanted to write some thoughts many times, but I've been super busy lately and didn't have any opportunity to write.

I'm clean for 12 days now, I know it's not that big, but it's the best result in 3 months for me. It feels reslly great. Gives me hope and joy. I had many battles, always tried to approach temptations with a clear mind and serenity. More like "I've been expecting you," less like "oh no, here it comes again, what do I do?". More like a natural process, something I can tame (thanks again for the tip, Grant400).

I visit forum almost daily and I pray for all of you every day (especially for you, eyes). It's great to know that you're here doing this great job. I'll try to write something longer soon. G-d bless you all.

12 days is not big, it's huge!!

Is does often get a bit harder before it gets easier as the brain tries to process the new you.

Exercise should help at this point.

Dear Testero,

Thank you for all your prayers. Every second that you hold yourself back is really helpful. You accomplish things that nobody can.

Please keep it up. BH I am 10 days post surgery. I still have time to heal. I still get up in the night due to pain. But your hisgabras makes a big difference in my recovery.

For whomever is on this forum. You could also pray for my recovery from this surgery. I know it is becoming very common these days in the Jewish community, especially in the tri-state area are giving organs. Let me tell you from a personal perspective. Its a surgery and there are lots of times where you cant do things because of the pain or from the incision.

So please dear brothers, chogru masnaichem and lets fight this battle together. Testero 12 days is an astronomical amount.

May you go from 12 to many more days.

Thanks everyone..
