Hey guys,

i just wanna let u guys know im in my 58th day clean baruch hashem. I havent been posting on GYE for a while since ive been doing very well. 1 of my commitmnets were not to take my ipod touch to the bathroom, since that was my biggest downfall. Well 2 days ago i took it "just to after 20 minutes of not stop videos i started to feel weird about myself, since i havent done it for 56 days ! I gota tell u it was SO TEMPTING to act out but b4 that i had to pray to hashem to get me out of this mess ASAP. right after my 2 min of praying my temptation dramastically decreased and i just threw my ipod to da side and just went out of the bathroom. So i still havent act out bh but i failed very much in not being shmiras einayim, It really effected me on how my next day went e.t.c . God willling il go to the mikvah hopefully to feel better aabout myself. I just wanted to keep u guys posted and thank u all for da avice that u have given me it really helped !

Way to go Avi!

I should warn you though, that at this precise point where you are (after a mistake but not a real fall) - lies the biggest danger.

Many many people get completely taken advantage of by the Y"H when their in your position.

You have to be extra careful not to give him any leeway, because right now he's crouching right next to you, just waiting for the second you'll be vulnerable, os he can pounce.

No compromises, or excuses - for anything which smells even slightly of tumah.

Your in way too much danger to risk it.

You just have to ride this one out till your back to normal, a week or so probably.

But kol hakavod on stopping in middle, you rock!!

Avi,

That takes a lot to pull a way like that. Shkoyach for turning to HKB"H and allowing Him to help you out.

No looking back, keep on moving forward.
