

On the way to 90, Again

Posted by jonatrosse1024 - 26 Jun 2025 02:08

Howdy, hello.

I have had long periods of sobriety multiple times over the years. I have had even more short periods of sobriety. I have had multiple therapists, literature, and meetings and recovery programs.

As of right now, I am 2 days without resorting to lust for my problems.

I have a sponsor and I have a sponsee.

I lead a SA meeting in my area on Tuesday evenings. I have gone through Steps 1-7 so far with my sponsor.

With all the things that "I" am doing, "I" have also gotten myself into a lot of messes. I have done a lot in my life to contribute to the problem. But you know who has done all of the contributions of my life to the solution? My Higher Power. God. Elohim. Y'hovah. Hashem.

I am going to commit to the next 88 days (at least) with all of you included in my journey. I hope to receive your support and prayers.

Thank you.

Hi,

we're all in this struggle in different levels, ages, backgrounds, etc. etc. etc.

but we are all here together and with the help of the one above we WILL get clean!

your amazing courage gives us all courage!

keep climbing!!!!

Thanks
