

Chazak Amenu's climb

Posted by Chazak Amenu - 28 Feb 2010 02:09

I am an orthodox 14(turn 15 march 30) years old who home schools, i have come to the conclusion myself that homeschooling has nothing to do with my addiction because I don't have time to view porn during school hours do to homework. I first saw porn when I was nearing the end of 6th grade. I saw it accidentally while doing a book report for class. The character in the book was also the name of the porn star and pictures of her popped up. The first time i saw it I immediately closed down but i was curious and had just hit puberty so i opened it up again and looked. I did not know what s-x was at the time and only looked at nude pictures for a while but then I began looking for videos and could not find any for a while. I contented myself with opening multiple tabs at time viewing hundreds of non clothed females. One day I downloaded a virus thereby forcing my dad to buy a new computer. While at the store he bought me a laptop which until recently I never used because I did not want to betray my parents trust further. I found out the filters password and used it. I recently changed the password so I don't know it but no one knows it so hopefully that does not become a problem. There are still two other computers without filters. No one knows about my addiction not even my twin brother. I don't feel clean and I feel like I need to go to the Mikvah but I don't know how to go by asking without people becoming suspicious. I feel really bad because I have a slight break before learning Gemmara and a few times I have watched porn right before learning. I hope I can stop the addiction early in my life and continue to become a good Jew!

No, it's me who should be thanking you.

Just as I might have a parent's perspective to share you with -- you have the teen's perspective that you are showing me. And fer sure, if I thought my own teenaged son were needing the work of this site, I would want him to be able to do the work, to ask for what he needs, etc.

Part of me wants to wake up every parent in this zip code and say, "yoo hoo, this could be my kid, or yours, or the teen over the next hill...."

But at least we can throw our TV on the curb, put a password & filter on the PC, and daven. Especially, daven.

Sometimes I forget (for a little while) about commitments I've made to the kids, unless I've written them down (in my electronic thingy).

Help him out here, and remind him if the evening starts to pass by. He really wants to do the right thing by you! (Even if, like me, he might forget something for a couple of days. And in this case, he MIGHT (!!)) not know that a couple of days is a big thing for you.)

Good for you, oh brave one!

yeah that what happened last time too. he works very late but he said he would do it and i f i remind and bring my laptop down he should do it, it won't take long. he works very late and normally comes home after 9:15 so... but he will do it. and like you said to him a few days with out a filter is fine whats the worst that can happen, but to me it is way to long, any way he will probably do it tonight and that is all that matters! thanks again Briut!

You see? A guy like me probably knows guys just LIKE your father. Especially the ones who work late, get tired, forget stuff they'd agreed to, etc. Oh, wait, I'm not talking about your father, I'm talking about ME. Never mind....

yeah accept that my dad did not do it last night! he says it is not that important and thinks i am carrying on to much about it and he does not know why i would want a password when i am just going to screw the computer up again and make things difficult but he will do it anyway. whatever i am going to get him to do it! and the next few days i have family over so i won't have time to watch por* but i will get him to do it...i don't have a choice!

Well, first, didn't I predict that he might wimp out, at least temporarily? No cause for concern - fathers just do that sometimes! He still loves you (as does Hashem).

Second, is there a reason you can't just install the filter YOURSELF, and give password to the filter Gabbai here?

Third, have a great Shabbos.

dont worry my friend, i understand where your comming from, my dads not religiuos and i love him sososo much but sometimes with this kind of side its hard to relate to him with this ind of stuff

i tried to explain to him shomer habris and i think he thought i was quite wired about it, nd dont get me started on what my parents think about shomer negia...!!!

maybe your parents are finding it hard that your so dedicted and they wish they could have been likentha deep down... but dont worry just daven hard and BS'D it will be on you compute soon... if not do u know how to install accountablility software... you culkd have it sent to your rabbi or guard or even me if you want, that way youd be less happy about looking at the bad stuff when you know everyone can see....but remeber who can always see THE CREATOR

have a good sshabbos my friend

here is what is going on. Pre GYE I knew the password to my filter and used it to view por* so I typed in a random one so I would not know it this is a quote from when I first introduced my self on GYE "I found out the filters password and used it. I recently changed the password so I don't know it but no one knows it so hopefully that does not become a problem." well it did when GYE got the virus because...so did my computer accept my dad could not fix it because I had gotten ris of the password allowing him to install ne files and the like onto my computer! that whole thing is on the thread

www.guardyoureyes.org/forum/index.php?topic=2265.msg63868#msg63868 anyway so my father was able to fix it and he took the password off so now there is no filter! So that is why he is hesitant but he said he would do it anyway...so i trust him that he will.

Have a good Shabbos Briut and Jamie.
