

It starts with one

Posted by oneday - 12 May 2010 15:39

Hi. I'm 14 years old and I'm determined to stop all this nonsense. If anyone has any tips feel free to let me know!

Edit:

I don't really have a story but what I do I'll say. In eighth grade my Rabbi talked to us about the prohibition of shichvat zerah, I already knew about it and had no inclination of ever doing it. I happen to go to a modern orthodox school and one of my friends said after that "ya right, like I'm going to stop". This truly bothered me, how can he be messing up his life and he is going to be killed and go to h I thought. I don't exactly know how much later, but some time after this my yetzer hara got me. I felt horrible after I did it. I literally cried out to Hashem that night and promised I would never do it again. About two weeks later I did it again and again and again and here I am now. When I lose a battle which b'ezras Hashem will not happen again I say to myself two things "He won a battle, but the war I shall win" and "The die I die, is the die I give up" this encourage me that I can't give up and must continue to my eventual goal of being free from this disease. I've also started learning on my own at night, usually every day, a perek in chumash. This gives me something to think about torah wise and is always a good thing.

Today was a good day... day one! I told myself that if I want to improve from last week, I can't Fell again and again today. :(I didn't follow through with my plan to post as soon as I have a fall. Oh well. I'm in a good mood still, so hopefully that can translate into success tomorrow. Good thing this week is that I haven't fallen two days in a row (hopefully I don't jinx myself!). Anyways I hope tomorrow Hashem helps me through and I can make tomorrow day one!

Dear One Day

Look at my post - we're in the same boat.

I can't believe that I am powerless!

So I have to let go and Let God take care of the fight.

Let's both try to stay real clean throughout the day. Not even to start tickling the Yezer.

I'm pulling for you!

It ws hard for me, but because I wrote you, I posted about my fall imediately.

When I fall down in the middle of the street with traffic around me - I am mad and sad. I want to just lay there and curse.

But it's dangerous to stay laying down.

Get up, and dust myself off, hobble over to the sidewalk.

And continue to live.

HaShem still and always loves you.

The boat that we are both in is sailing towards freedom and Hashem is our captain!

I kept myself busy all day and it had a result.

Hopefully I can finish this week with two days clean!

Dear ISWO,

I'm glad you posted right away.

What do you feel like reight BEFORE you're about to drop the ball?

What is it about your struggle that's similar to the sprot you're thinking about? (football? basketball?)

Is the fall during the same time period of the day in similar situations?

Keep alert and away from nisayon!

Be strong

Falls happen anytime except for the night usually. I don't know anymore, my y"h won't go away. It's like I almost have to do it and 'enjoy' myself. The y"h is tricky, but b'ezras Hashem I will outtrick him! Usually I'll see a 'suggestive' image and thats how it goes downhill... that is the normal trigger!

Tonight I fought it and all and it overcame me. Tonight, I fell because I didn't give over the fight to Hashem like I started to do last week! It's alright the y"h might have won this battle, but I'm going to win the war!

Just when I thought the sun was coming up it started to rain. I fell again. :(Hopefully I can get back on track tomorrow and destroy the y"h during the nine days. There isn't much joy on the 9 days, but hopefully I can get joy from getting a winning streak going again!

Really hate to say this, but I have to face the shame of posting again. I fell again and it was a long fall. Usually my falls are at most 15 minutes. This one lasted like 1 and a half hours. After this, I am more determined than ever to put these past three days behind and be clean tomorrow. The y''h better watch out tomorrow...

Hey

Maybe go through the handbooks again or always keep a 12-steps-little-paper in your pocket, anyway I think You can and will do it. Hey, what is a day. He can take away the defects of character away :((I am thinking it's all right to cry.) Even though there are many defects of

Your friend in the battle for one day,

Yehoshua

I admire your courage in posting again after a fall.

The gyes - want to be a part of your struggle. So keep us posted.

What is the feeling like after you post? Strong?

Yes you have strength and can keep clean, one day at a time

Be ALIVE

Hey there

Im a 15 yr old and I recently joined - I thought I was the only youngster around but I guess Im wrong. Reading Your story now that I think about it is almost identical to mine. I also thought all these guys around me are so weak and how can they do such aveiros, and look here I am. So keep on fighting and remember Hashem is with you, and so are we all - dont depair!!!!

Everyone thanks for the words! Too bad I didn't read 'em before I fell. Of course the y'h kept me away from this site.

It's alright though as I'm feeling pretty good right now, as I was just to fall again, but I though of you guys and how it would still be an improvement from yesterday even if I fell today. I came to the site and bam the y'h leaves me alone for now!

Anyways as someone said on gye once "So I fell again, why should I cry about this one and forget about the others" (something like that). I'm just going to try it cool the rest of the night and b'ezras Hashem 'Day One' is starting right now!

Hatzlacha to all, I would be in quicksand if it weren't for you guys and this site!

.Maybe you could be especially careful during a limited time of the day, like atime when you KNOW that you are apt to fall.

I recently accepted on myself bli neder to be v. careful about any lusting from 6-8 pm - till rosh hashana - for the refuah of someone I know of.

This is a combination of Sur mera and Ase Tov.

what do you think?
