Hi,

I just want to thank all of you for all your support and suggestions. Starting my count today!
Don't have much to say (it seems like everything has been said by others already). Anyway, will be back to update...

Regards.

... it was my first challenge and a real statement to throw it out.

Wow. You are amazing. Shkoiach!

I wonder who was setting up the challenge. Yeah, it MIGHT be the Y'H trying to put you off-track. OR, it could be Hashem HIMSELF sending you a message that He's on your side and right there with you. I mean, after all, what "coincidental" timing and what a merit that you could just toss it. Wow.

A coupla months ago, I had similar "coincidences" coming at me, left and right. One day I found myself suddenly facing

(I can't have a filter and it is useless for me because I know how to get around it easily) and will hope for the best. Thanks for all the support. [/i]

Install K9 filter!

By doing that you are still making an extra step to view the non-sense and might be able to pull yourself back.

You have nothing to lose by installing it.

A couple times yesterday, I typed in a site and it was blocked, the password was right in front of me, but I overcame it those couple of times just by having that little extra obstacle.

Luckily, now I flushed the password down the toilet! It can't hurt ya, give it a try.

Have a good Shabbos!

Hey Brother!!! LOTR fan, vau. A nice one is in the III. part at the black gate. Hm, is it a classical scene already??? Aragorn cuts the head of the Saurons Mouth since he does not believe the words of folly! There still is hope!!!

I guess it's us, the guys here under - I got 1 day clean, so I can count myself in, ??? - that hope against all odds and win, day after day. May the Force be with you!!!

Hi Installed, thanks for stopping by my thread and leaving such nice comments. It really means a lot to me that my thread in some way is of assistance to others.

I think your story is really inspirational and I can empathise with a lot of what you were saying. It sounds like you are taking the time to really work on yourself and take control of where you are heading - how many people have the fortitude to even admit they have a problem, let alone actually go about trying to correct that problem?! Your age is inconsequential, it's what you're doing now that counts!

You are certainly on the right track and if you continue to respond to temptations in the same way you responded to that untimely parcel that found its way to your door, I'm sure Hashem will grant you success in all your endeavours.

Just focus on taking it one day at a time and know that if you're ever really feeling the struggle then GYE is only one click away. We're here for you and everyone wants to see you succeed!

Looking forward to seeing you on the Wall of Honour.

That's only natural. It was certainly that way for me.

It's also part of the reason why it's so important to visit GYE everyday (at least early on). I found that by trawling through other people's threads and reading their stories, it motivated me to stay clean. Whether it be the disappointment expressed by somebody who's just had a fall or the sheer pride and joy of someone who has overcome another obstacle on the path to sobriety. Either way, as you've already realised, there is a lot to be learned here. It's a great way of keeping your focus and serves as a constant reminder of why you're here in the first place.

I'm currently traveling and I got myself into an impossible situation (not intentionally) and I'm REALLY messed up! [...] Please daven for me!

Look, I can hear you saying 'bizarre.' Even 'challenging.' But please don't use the word 'impossible.' Because if you stop and think about it, it's a lie. It's also not what you would choose to characterize it as being.

So, let's start over. You've got a challenging situation, that you didn't create on your own. It's gonna go on for a few more days. That's just current reality, from what you say. So, ok, whadya gonna do about it?

You could pay yourself $1 everytime you don't look (or whatever). You could burn your hand with a match everytime you do look (or whatever). You could envision your father Yaakov's face coming to you and saying don't sleep with your future mother-in-law (Aishes Potiphar; yuk). But whatever you do, you know YOU GOTTA JUST DO IT. Because you want this so much.

Probably more than I wanted it. Yet I'm still around to tell the tale. Sorta, maybe. Okay, yes, I'm still here. WE ALL WANT TO HEAR GOOD REPORTS FROM YOU AT THE END OF THE WEEKEND. IN THE MEANTIME, I CAN DAVEN, INSTALLED BEN SARAH....
