

fresh start

I was on the list before under a different name and I decided to change it. Previously I was "David". I am nearing the end of my 4th day clean. Today was difficult and challenging. Thanks to your help, I have had a filter (K9) on my computer since Thursday afternoon. That has been helpful. Anyway, happy to be on this journey of sobriety. I'm not so sure how much to disclose about myself and what to write on these forums. I hope to make use of them, though. I have needed, do need and will need help and support.

Hey Habib.

and yechida. and anyone else reading this...

I just read this post now, didn't have much of a chance to get to it before...

it sounds like your low self esteem mainly came from your acting out.

for me its a vicious cycle, but i think the low self esteem came first.

im not over it. im clean for now but im not free of inappropriate thoughts and staring is an issue for me as well.

im also feeling down. i think for a number of us here, but of course, i can only speak for myself, the acting out is an escape, so when we stop that and confront that, things dont necessarily become easier.

i dont want to go into this too much b/c i dont want to give my thoughts too much validity.

it is a challenge for me to move forward, do anything with myself many a time.

everytime i have something of some importance to do, i can get sidetracked very easily.

im really not in the mood to post at all right now, but after i read what you wrote, i figured id respond.

and maybe its better for me to write something anyway..., dunno sorry for posting like this here, but i wanted to respond to you and i think my thread was taken over by aliens...

i hope its ok that i crashed here for a bit, prob not the best example of a big bro for his little sis, i hope you forgive me also, guys (and gals), about all this video watching and scary things going on the world, it's true, its out there, and to each his own, if were mischazek, great, if it scares us and gets us down, then dont watch it, also, slightly related..., i dont know if youve heard..., but an F-16 crashed yesterday..., in darom har chevron...

asaf ramon, the pilot, died in the crash, he was ilan ramon's son, the israeli astronaut who died on the columbia...

both father and son, representing their nation, flying up and crashing down...

i hope that i can keep my jet flying in their honor...

again, sorry for being so depressing, just sharing whats on my mind. (maybe i shouldnt?)

if anyone feels i should move this post elsewhere, feel free to say so...

and if anyone is going to respond specifically to me..., do it on my thread, wall of honor, fresh start...

sturggle

Sturggle, about that pilot, it is depressing...we want moshiach now...

All your questioning in your post, (about posting or not posting...etc) shows a low self esteem , in my opinion. Gotta work on it. Theres no way you get anyplace in life , that way.

I just read this post now, didn't have much of a chance to get to it before...

it sounds like your low self esteem mainly came from your acting out.

for me its a vicious cycle, but i think the low self esteem came first.

that can def be harder to get over, but since you brought it up...

well last night was hard. my self-esteem hit pretty low. so maybe i'm not all better. but hey- it's been a while. which is happy. but low self esteem felt like an old friend, and it was comfortable feeling low again. and now i'm realizing that sometimes i just used it as an excuse to give up. and working on myself in the area of lust addiction helped my low self esteem because i didn't act out, and also because once i was fighting, i just pulled myself together and tried to control myself better in other areas as well.

over what? the addiction or your self esteem? I'm not over either one yet. and i know for a fact that your way farther along in your 90 days than i am. go sturggle!!!!!!

im also feeling down. i think for a number of us here, but of course, i can only speak for myself, the acting out is an escape, so when we stop that and confront that, things dont necessarily become easier.

easier in what way? who said my life was easy? k, it is better than my mom's friend, who is on oxygen and can't get off it for more than a couple of min at a time. way better (thanks Hashem for that) but i also use acting out to escape. and i still want to.

i dont want to go into this too much b/c i dont want to give my thoughts too much validity.

it is a challenge for me to move forward, do anything with myself many a time.

every time i have something of some importance to do, i can get sidetracked very easily.

give your thoughts validity? seriously? your thoughts are really serious. some people even pay other people to give thier thoughts validity (it's called therapy) because everyone needs their opinions validated at some points.

so here you go:

) you are a good guy. You try your best. you work hard. and you're there for your friends when they need you. i don't know much about your life off the forum, but most things indicate that you're pretty nice.

so i'm gonna tell you a secret. life is hard and it's supposed to be.Hashem tailor fit each of our nisyonos to our neshama.

maybe low self esteem is part of your struggle. maybe you're supposed to use it to grow. maybe you need it to understand someone else's pain.

i have no idea.

and getting sidetracked easily- i've heard that one recently it's called procrastination. and everyone does it when they don't want to do something they have to do. sometimes that something in getting out of bed. realizing that it's silly to wait cuz you're gonna have to do it later so sturggle, read my quotes and ;D. you'd be surprized. someone may just smile back. or maybe Hashem will. ;D

Habib,

I'm thinking of a befitting response.

First off, thanks.

RATM wrote:

I thought I was... Did I misunderstand something? You (RATM) wrote:

were not gonna break a 15 year addiction with posts on a forum (and, in my case, bourbon)...wer'e white knucklin it bro and it aint gonna work...

And Bardichev replied:

I TOO WAS EXTREMELY APPREHENSIVE OF HAVING TO JOIN A SA TYPE GROUP

I DO GO AGAINST THE GRAIN HERE

AND I ARGUED THIS WITH SOME SENIOR MEMEBERS HERE

PESONALLY IF I WOULD OF HAD TO ATTEND A GROUP I WOULD HAVE STILL BEEN ADDICTED

BIG TIME

HAVING SAID THAT

IF YOU FEEL YOU CAN WHITE KNUCKLE IT DO IT!!!

And what Bardichev meant to say (and I'm not sure if he was clear enough), was that for HIM, white-knuckling it worked and he never needed an SA group. Not only that, but he made even a claim that had he joined a group he would have still been addicted! (I don't understand that one, but not everyone can be yored les of da'ato of the "Rebbe")

So, to Bardichev I replied, that he was not a real addict. All he seemed to need (and this is clear from his posts in the past, which you may or may not have seen) was just to find out "that he's not crazy and not alone, and that other heilige gevalidiggggge yidden went through the same as he did and succeeded in breaking free". Once he saw that, the forum worked like a charm for him and he didn't need much more. But I am suggesting that for others, who are more addicted, his approach would probably not be sufficient, as you RATM seemed to catch.

Did I misunderstand something here, or was I perhaps misunderstood?

guard, you were right on as always...i was making a joke (see disclaimer below) calling bardy crazy, if you will...it was a bad joke and i condemn myself for making such a not funny offensive joke about a real swell guy...as they say in hollywood, i apologize to anyone who may have been offended by my remark which was not intended to offend anyone (hollywood's sad excuse i guess i was right for an apology)...
