

Been there done that... not really

Posted by geshertzarmeod - 14 Feb 2011 09:48

I've started the teshuva process before, but never with the support of others. Even if no one is reading this, just the idea that I can post this somewhere is meaningful. One day at a time. So this is day 1. :-\

I think I need to check the attitude handbook.

Is there a thread here somewhere where one can solve all their problems without having to do any work.

That's what I need.

Yes. A Rebbe does have a sense of humor. At least this one does. But in today's society we are trained that if you look at a kid the wrong way, you could be sued, imprisoned, or hung!!!

So I get nervous when people think I called them stupid. (Even if they are!!)

:D ;D

This is a call for all my friends out there in GYE land (i think i have at least two) to daven for me. I am tackling some major issues in the next day or two, and I am scared out of my mind! usually i just avoid these things, but I cant avoid them any more. I have to take care of them, but it will cause major stress. stress usually means acting out, or at least it used to. Im turning this over to HKBH, Im doing what i have to do, and Im turning to HIM to take care of the rest. I have to find comfort and relaxation in HIS embrace, in his closeness. No more phony means of soothing myself when Im scared / nervous!

I davened for your hatzlocha.

I hope it turns out good.

I'm here for you.

Thanks again for the pm'ing.

I think Zemmy once told me to try and just focus on the work that I need to do THIS SECOND.

No use having the full weight of the full task on you for every second of the day.

hatzlocha.

if you win the lotto remember us, basedar?
thanks everyone for the support and replies.

Today went alot better than I expected!

BH it could have been a real stressful situation and it ended up very calm and productive. Im sorry I cant get into details cuz it involves other family members, but suffice it to say, I am very relieved.

BTW Zem, amen to the lotto wishes!

you never know, my wife just finished 40 days at the kosel for us to get out of debt. and Both of us spent several hours there today saying all of sefer tehillim.

I finished at about 1:30 am.

ya never know...

Good Shabbos everyone! Amazing how I feel good even though the financial situation hasnt changed yet.

While I was davening at the kosel a thought came to mind. While davening my mind kept wondering if someone was secretly gonna put an envelope with $$$$ in my pocket.

Then it occurred to me that I am so missing the point. We get so focused on the bottom line and we forget about the purpose, getting closer to HKBH. Some people told my wife that they saw yeshous after saying all sefer tehillim. It just takes 2 hours.

Well it took my wife 3 hours and me 3:20. So Im thinking these people flew thru it. Is that the point? they flew thru tehillim and got the reward. is that all that matters? No. My wife and I said tehillim slowly and carefully and are still waiting for the yeshua. But I feel I got something else as well. connection with HKBH. Thats the point. What a shame that we keep getting distracted.

That's right. That's right.

We are here to connect to HKB"H.

Saying the whole tehillim by the kosel and connecting to H' is a huge accomplishment.

H' Yisbarach should always give you and your family what you need.

We are still right here with you.

Good Shabbos!
