

Looking for some help - an hour a week
Posted by the.guard - 24 Sep 2009 06:27

Hi guys, running this joint is a bit overwhelming, so I'm looking to delegate some tasks... For example, i put "Kedusha" in charge of the Accountability groups... I need someone to help me with hooking up partners and sponsors... People send me in their questionnaires and I need to find the best matches... It shouldn't take more than an hour a week, but it would still be a big help if anyone could step forward and offer to do the matching up - and subsequent e-mailing the partners, etc.... (we hope to one day have this automated, but that's still down the line).

Thank you!

Thank you everyone. 7Up - and Habib (who sent me an e-mail) thanks, but it's probably best if it's a guy... since all the questionnaires - to date - have been guys, I think. Hey, I know, I'll put 7Up in charge of matching women questionnaires (once in a blue moon)...

Uri and Sturggle, thanks so much for the offer. I don't know who to choose, so since Uri posted Love you all!

You mean, thats all you need help with??

FIRST I'll let him do it... When you crash at his place sturggle, you can help him.

One hour job off your head is all it takes to stop you feeling overwhelmed?

Im either impressed or skeptical...

I'm not impressed, just skeptical!

And bitter me says, ouch! no! pick me! pick me!

And happy, loving, holy, inspiring attitudinal (i think that's all of them) me says, oh guard, i love you too, :-* :-*

And the real (?!!) me says, ich! uch! iww!

Love you all too! ;D

Okay,

the bitter me says; awww, I also wanted to help with anything

the happy,loving,holy ... says; Maybe I'll get to do something a diff. time

The real me says; stop trying to impress everyone :D
