

Guys, I need a big favor

Posted by the.guard - 22 Sep 2010 08:28

Due to our fundraising efforts over the past six months, and the fact that we are finally working on a serious overhaul of our entire network to make everything much more professional, simple to use and cutting edge (we're working with a web developing team in LA), etc, I have been unable to spend time on the forum like I used to.

One of the problems with this is, that I used to get all the great material for the chizuk e-mails from the amazing posts of chizuk and inspiration that our users share on the forum. Since I no longer have time to spend on the forum, I am having a hard time lately getting material together for the chizuk e-mails. So I would like to ask a big favor from everyone. Whenever you see a post that you found inspiring, that gave you a new insight into this struggle, a new perspective, a new practical tip, a new Torah thought, etc.. PLEASE send it to me at eyes.guard@gmail.com...
(. If you want to edit it and make it more readable, that would be fine. If not, I'll do it myself. But I really need the GYE communities' help with this.

Thank you, and wishing everyone a very happy and clean Yom Tov!

Isn't it? Don't worry Guard we have everything under control. Just leave it in our capable hands.

You asked for it Guard.

You can always count on this gang for deep brilliance and inspiration.

We are here to help ;D

all this chit chat, yet no one sent me anything yet for the daily chizuk e-mail...

oh well, I'll just have to send a long dose of dov. That'll fix you all.
