Hi. My work computer doesn't allow me to add a internet filter app to the computer. At home, I have a router which filters internet. Does anyone have any recommendations for something at the office or when I am out of town which is not an app?

As someone that works in IT I can say that your company is probably monitoring your internet usage when you are in the office. So that just leaves out of town. Do you have to take your company computer with you or can you use a personal, filtered one?

Do you work for a Jewish company? I've had employees ask me how they can install TAG filters on their work computers and we help them out.

Where I work, the internet usage is being monitored.

By knowing that, I fear to watch inappropriate stuff at work.
